

SHIRT SERVICES

Direct to Garment Printing

This process works similarly to printing on paper with a regular printer. The design is dyed into the fabric of a cotton shirt. There is NO white ink, so nothing will show up on black or dark colored items. Similarly, very bright colors will affect how the design looks. (Ex: A yellow design on a blue shirt will look a bit green.)

Any white in the design will be the color of the shirt. It works best on light colors like white, light grey, and light blue.

- No minimum order
- Most cost effective
- No black or dark colored shirts
- No white in the design
- Light shirt colors recommended
- Able to do full color designs
- Able to do intricate details like small text
- Starts at $7

Heat Transfer Vinyl (HTV)

We cut vector designs from Heat Transfer Vinyl (HTV), remove all of the excess HTV from the design, and then apply it on top of the shirt.

Designs cut with HTV cannot be very small or intricate. Designs must be vectors files (.ai, .svg, .eps, .dxf, and some .pdf) for us to be able to cut them.

We typically only use 1 color of HTV, but can potentially layer up to 3. HTV works well with all shirt colors and fabrics.

- Maximum order around 20
- No minimum order
- All shirt colors work
- Limited to 1-3 colors
- Price increases with amount of colors

Screen Print Transfers

We have the design screen printed onto transfer paper by our vendor then apply it on top of the shirt. Our vendor has different order minimums based on amount of colors used in the design (1, 2 or 3+). The price increases with the amount of colors used. Full color designs and intricate designs are possible. They work well with all shirt colors and fabrics. These orders may take slightly longer as we have to wait for the transfers to be printed and shipped to us.

- Minimum order of 20 shirts for single color designs
- Minimum order of 50 shirts for 3+ color designs
- Price increases with amount of colors
- All shirt colors work
- Only way to have a 3+ color design on any shirt color including black
